

Transliteration of the Channeling "Tides" of Archangel Chamuel by Heike Lieselotte Schneider on March 31, 2021

"Be blessed, beloved children of light, we are the energy which you name Chamuel. Beloved children in the light. We would like to speak a little today on the subject of tides, but first we would like to point out the current transformational surges and the perceived issues that you are also feeling on the physical plane.

Beloved children in the light. It is a difficult time, a difficult needle-ear through which you must pass. But the Golden Age is imminent, or the beginning of the Golden Age is imminent.

Beloved children. First of all, the changes in the structures of the body are actually being felt at the bone level, especially in the joints, but also in vision, hearing, and still the shift in bone density is being felt by all of you. This means you will have more frequent joint pain, you will have more frequent problems with all the bones, with all the joints, with the vertebrae, and beyond that, with vision and hearing. Sometimes, due to the increased vibrational frequencies, dizziness may also set in. In order to protect our channel, we naturally point out again that certain illnesses or disease patterns should be clarified by a doctor or alternative practitioner. But this only times as information for that, which works at present at forces on you.

Beloved children in the light. The subject of tides has to do with the wave-like or wave-same spreading of the energies. Unfortunately, the earth is not yet liberated. Not completely, but you already feel a certain change. The light is indeed coming, it is just around the corner.

Beloved children. As you can see from the Schumann frequency, the energy frequency that works, so to speak, between the cosmos and the planet itself or the earth's magnetic field, the awakening process is being pushed along by the entire universe. More and more people are waking up, even if they perhaps do not yet dare to take personal responsibility, to take power, to give themselves the empowerment to actually stand by their thinking, their feeling on the outside.

Here it is especially added that certain structures, as we already said in the annual message, that the earth is beginning to liberate itself, or better said, through the help of many, many light workers worldwide and especially the indigenous peoples more and more liberated. The residual darkness that still exists, of course, continues to be fed by anxiety, fear, worry, envy, hatred, resentment, judging and evaluating. These are human emotions, and this please do not feel as an accusation, but only as a statement of fact.

It is ultimately a matter of the fact that the Schumann frequency, so to speak, the rash that always comes from above, is meanwhile partially reinforced by the rash from the Earth, from the consciousness of Mother Earth herself. There have already been several times this month "the big bang" so to speak, the connection between the universal energy and the energy of Mother Earth. And you are in the middle of it with all your being. This means that the difficulties may also have to do with moodiness, with depressive moods, with various other emotion roller coasters. Be patient with yourself. But again the advice: seek out the quiet space in your heart as often as possible.

Beloved Children. We had asked you to send a great deal of love into the earth each time you are in love. We would like to continue to ask you to do this eventually. But beyond that, it is of great importance to also make this energy available to the collective of humanity. Many people are so stuck in their thought structures and therefore not ready to wake up. Afraid of the new, of the unknown. Fear of what it might be like when things are no longer the way they were learned. Fear of what it might be like if the structures you've believed in for so long aren't true. Fear of stepping into your own power.

Beloved children. Many of you think that things are not moving forward. This is an illusion. The light has already won. However, it is like the tides, like waves, everything in the universe is expanding in waves. This means that the waves swell more and more, getting bigger and bigger, but also sometimes flattening out a little. This wavelike growth is so because finally the experienced, the newly heard or the new truths or wisdoms or however you would like to name it, must be processed first of all.

Hearing something that is beyond imagination first brings the 5 stages of grief. This goes first with the shock, denial, struggle, depression and finally acceptance and letting go, which are the 5 stages of grief. This means that many people are either stuck in one stage or another, don't want to move forward, can't move forward, or are simply afraid of it. Afraid of accepting their own power. You would be surprised how many people need leadership. Be it in politics, be it in looks, be it in policies, be it in stars or starlets, it's always about comparison or taking/following a leader in the past. The Golden Age says there is no leadership position or level of leadership to that extent. You take the power for yourself. You take power for yourself. You empower yourself. You are a powerful human being, fully ensouled. And you decide for yourself what you want to create, what you want to live and who you want to be. This decision that you make for yourself is supported by the Divine Spark because of your soul. This means, because of your power and your strength, you are able to bring the Divine Power into the world and use it to create what you want to create. When it sinks into you, it is something that can make you very afraid. Fear of your own power, strength and might. But deep inside of you, in your soul, that soul just says I AM. And this soul in you is ultimately the conscience, the law of Divine Omnipotence itself. If you live on the soul level, it means that you will not be able to hurt other people, no matter on what level. You would not destroy anything, you would not enrich yourself with anything, you would just BE. You would live the I AM. In the here and now and this completely and without exception.

Beloved children in the light. However, it is the case that many people simply need their role models or believe they need their supposed role models. There are more people who want to be led than to take the leadership role themselves. In the past, it has been the case that the values that you have received from parents or grandparents, so to speak, have become more and more flattened.

The life in the nature, as the great-great-grandparents lived it, the life with the nature, the life in harmony with the nature, with the feeling to the nature and of course also with the energy of the nature was taken back more and more and more. You are truly deeply immersed in the 3D world and partly even mainly in the 2D world. The 2D world, which consists of a screen. Which no longer has anything to do with actual life, which has all the senses such as seeing, hearing, smelling, feeling, tasting, but simply second hand emotions, so to speak, which you have acquired through movies.

Beloved children in the light. This time is definitely over. The wake-up call goes to every soul and it will become stronger with each passing day. There are people who do not want to go through the ascension process. There are people who would rather be poisoned than possibly give up a vacation. There are people who attack others because they see a danger in them. There are people who are not at all willing to take personal responsibility. But the others are getting stronger and stronger. And if, despite everything, you look for the light in the other, or shower the other, who is much more in darkness than you are, with light, you can help that more and more people become awake. Giving away the responsibility to a supposedly better leading person is a very childish behavior. A behavior that trusts that mom and dad will fix everything. But neither politics nor stars or starlets are mommy and daddy. And not every person has only good things in mind with you. Especially if you consider that many of the supposed people have split off so many soul parts that they are already completely led by the darkness. But again, the ascension cannot be stopped, the light has won. It only goes in waves - even if it goes constantly upwards, the trough of the waves comes again and again. In this time, in the supposed trough of the waves, the knowledge seeps through you and, by seeking the connection more and more with the Divine Omnipotence, the old knowledge of the soul breaks open again. Practically, exactly the same thing is happening inside of you that is happening on the planet. New energy is coming from the universe and the earth is liberating itself. And this energy is connecting and triggering a new wave of awakening, so to speak. Accepting that many perhaps of your friends, even families, choose not to go along with Ascension and go through other incarnations, of course, means sadness for some. But remember, free will applies here as well. Always and without exception.

And furthermore, for us, no soul is given away unless the soul voluntarily decides to turn to darkness, which ultimately can only happen through manipulation or through a conscious decision. This is also possible, this is also what many people have done in the past over thousands of years, selling themselves, so to speak, for recognition, for power, for money or whatever. But since this is so against the actual salvation of the soul, it is so that the human being, in order to be able to do this at all, in order to be able to go over dead bodies, so to speak, has already split off soul parts. These split off soul parts do not only leave holes in the auric field, but they are protected by many, many angels, so that they are not really lost. But in these holes darkness can gladly spread. And this is something that leads to the fact that many people are literally alienated, and especially just in the leadership level.

Beloved lights. You are so full of power and so full of strength. You are so much more than you can imagine. And you are always loved! But, the whole universe is waiting for you. It is waiting for you to say: We are ready!

It is waiting for you to say: I am ready! I am ready to take personal responsibility. I am ready to bring the Divine Light into the world. I am ready to pass on the Divine Love, from person to person. I am ready to see the soul in the other, no matter how much darkness is around him. I am ready to transform the planet into a paradise. I am ready to stand up for myself and for those I love. I am ready to protect the people who depend on me, the smallest, the weakest. I say no. To say no means, in the end, to fully use the free will that is within you. And when you say no to anything that is imposed on you, when you say no to anything that you are being forced to do or be forced to do, when you say this with all your heart and soul, because of the use of your free will, it means that you are actually protected, because that complete statement that empowers you, so to speak, to go into your own power, to say "No, I reject the darkness in this world. I reject the rape in this world. I reject the abuse in this world.

I turn completely to the Divine love, the power and the strength," means in reverse nothing else than that your light radiates so strongly that the darkness must automatically withdraw and also wants to do it voluntarily for the simple reason that in the light the darkness disappears, is transformed, is dissolved, is completely no longer existent.

Beloved children in the light. Understand that you are in a kind of war. The good thing about it is that there are not actually bombs flying. And everything that will be presented to you now, check it out, feel if it is true or if it is also an illusion. It means you are fighting a war of light against shadow, God against darkness. And you are free to choose your side. To freely choose your side means to ultimately agree "yes" to a game, to a rape, to an abuse of power, to say nothing, to be silent, or to say "No, I'm not going to play this game." This intention alone means that you are going into a power and a strength where your courage can grow exorbitantly, where your power will grow quite strongly, and where you are, so to speak, calling the Divine Forces directly in to you or flowing through you and carrying them outward as well.

Beloved children in the light. You are such powerful beings. We know how desperate and how difficult it is when you do not look at this from the heart level. But if you feel inside, right now, deep inside, you will be able to feel the joy and gratitude of the awakening that is coming within you. Allow it. Let it out. Let it flow. And so we ask you, each and every one of you, that you also continue to give this light and this love into the core of the earth, to Mother Earth. That you thank her for the suffering that she has gone through, for what she has borne, these thousands of liters, these millions of liters of blood that she has had to bear. But also send it into the collective consciousness. Into the collective consciousness of the people, in Germany (... your country), in Europe, but ultimately also into the whole world. Send the light especially where the darkness reaches for the people. Where ignorance, not wanting to recognize, not wanting to wake up is so great. Send light and love there. There is nothing more important to do at this time.

Beloved children in the light. You are the ones who have decided to end this battle that has existed for millennia on this earth, the darkness and the light, you are the ones who have decided to end this battle once and for all, to let the light prevail.

You have chosen to be here at this moment. You have chosen to complete the Divine Work. You have chosen to liberate people, humanity itself.

You have sacrificed yourself a little bit, so to speak, to bring this process forward, out of love. Out of love for humanity, out of love for being, and ultimately out of love for God.

We bless you in the light of Divine Omnipotence, now and always, and so be it.
