

Transliteration of the Channeling "Annual Message 2023" of Archangel Chamuel by Heike Lieselotte Schneider on Dezember 23, 2022

"Beloved Children of Light. We are the energy that you name Chamuel.

Beloved Children. We have been asked to share with you the annual message for the coming year, for the coming events of this time.

First of all, we would like to point out that it is of great importance and significance that you remain in your power and your strength at this time. You know the satanic reversal, or rather those who have manipulated the calendars accordingly, have naturally placed this special time, where in Christianity the birth of Jesus is celebrated, on days that are particularly energy-bearing for the satanists, for the dark forces. That means, the next, the coming three days are actually the days of darkness, where the darkness will perform various rituals, will try to draw just as much energy as possible. And so, it is imperative that you try, now that the families are coming back together, that you try to stay as strong as you can in your heart.

Don't get into any more discussions if there have been divisions within your families. Stay in your power, your strength: just observe and enjoy being with the people who are especially close to you. The main thing now is to let go, to let go of the fight. This does not mean that you should not be in your force and in your strength, it does not mean to put up with everything, it just means not to fight on the outside or to fight on the inside, but it ultimately means to be so in your force and strength, to live your sovereignty in such a way that ultimately the other person feels the force and the strength that resides in you. Then there is no need for any discussion.

Two people or ensouled beings who are sovereign will automatically move on to soul conversations. But where the ego meets a sovereign human being, but he still gets a little bit stuck in the ego, struggle arises. In order to avoid that, in order not to feed the darkness even more, it would be of great importance, of great importance, to be as strong and intense as possible in the heart now in the next three days.

To simply rejoice in the togetherness, to rejoice in the gifts, in the togetherness, in the power and strength that should actually be in the family unions. The darkness, the dark forces have tried with everything they could to split up the families. And by and large they have succeeded very, very strongly. Stay in your power, stay in your strength!

The next period will be a little bumpy. Some things will happen that will shake even the most awakened, and ultimately it's important to stay in God-trust, to stay anchored with your soul in Divine Source, and just watch what unfolds. Try to put evaluation to the back of your mind for a bit and stay in your power. Especially at this time, because a week ago the energies have changed again strongly, also the earth vibrates a little differently, means that you are very strong in processes. You will increasingly feel tiredness, the need for retreat, the need for rest, for silence and above all the great need for sleep. You should follow this as far as it is possible for you.

You will find that within the next year or the next time you will get more and more abilities, because the recall or the call of the soul finally, the connection of the soul increases so much that you go more and more into your power. The darkness is losing more power with each passing day. The essence of the earth, of Mother Earth, continues to permeate or become stronger with each day as well, and that means that the powers are connecting and your actual abilities, which is deposited in your DNA, are coming more and more to light. This means all abilities in the form of clairaudience, clairsentience, clairvoyance, telekinetic, truth dreams, flashbacks, déjà vus - it is an intense time, but for your souls the purest adventure.

Beloved children. Next year is a Year of Seven. A year attributed to Divine Power and Divine Source. And ultimately, it is about God intervening. The exact time or what exactly will happen is not announced. We are not aware of it either because God decides Himself, but ultimately the point is that it is very flexible, especially because several timelines are still active.

We're going to talk a little bit about what's happening on 3D, on 4D, and what you can expect on 5D.

It is only important first of all that you remain in your power, in your connection, in your strength, that you take the times when it is somehow possible to go inside, not to permanently bring in further information. You know everything in the end, by and large. It's just a matter of showing strength and fortitude now.

There will still be many bereavements. Many of you have already lost loved ones, friends, acquaintances. It is upsetting for you, but only on the human level. The souls return. Depending on how much the soul has been split, it takes a little longer, but with prayers for these people you will be able to help them and we are also there to speed it up so that the transition can be quite easy for them. It is a return home and here on the earth level, on the 3D level, grief and loss is still of great importance. That goes away with time.

The 3D level is in struggle, is at war. The more people get out of 3D, meaning they just vibrate higher, the less the dark forces can draw energy. Therefore, it is very flexible what happens in the next days and weeks and months, because it depends very much on humanity. It depends on how much energy and how much strength, how much power is ultimately needed to go to the next higher level and the lower level of the 4D. Many of you have already gone to these realms. In the lower 4D level, the dark Ones still have some influence. But from the middle 4D level on, the darks lose influence, they don't have the power to vibrate that high. That means, you don't just switch from 3 to 5D, but you go through the 3D level, the 4D level, until you finally reach the 5D level at the latest in 2037 and for one or the other there you are already in the middle or also in the strongest level of the 5D energy. And at the latest there you will be able to receive the contact to your predecessors, that is to say the previous homecomers already again.

Beloved children. What is happening now will pick up speed, as it is already in the beginning. More and more and more intense information will come out. Information will also come out as said, which will still contain shock experiences even for those who are awake. It is important to have a calming effect on the people who may then react very excitedly, to reach out to them.

Forgiveness does not mean forgetting. It does not mean that the people or the beings who cause the whole thing or who belong to the dark forces and have brought the great suffering upon humanity will not be punished. But it simply means that it has no power over you. That it does not have the power, the power over you to make you feel bad in any way.

It is especially important now to keep going back to nature. And above all to connect with your new soul families. You have met many people with whom you vibrate in unison, so to speak. To intensify that, to form communities, friendships, to make new networks, so that finally, no matter what happens - and the darkness will give everything, because it fights for survival in the truest sense of the word. And the dark will try to create as much fear and terror. The important thing is, as we said before, stay in mindfulness and don't believe everything that is shown to you on TV or on the news, but first feel it out if it's true, if it's actually essential. There are many of the leading layers of darkness already gone. However, the layers below, which cannot be less cruel, are still trying to do everything they can to leave scorched earth, so to speak. But again, in the end, it can never attack the very essence of the soul. The Divine Spark that resides in every soul, it is indestructible. It can only be that these souls are a bit lost for the time being, but as said before through prayers you can help. By lighting light for them, candles, you can help them to enter into these new energies, to complete the transformation process on the other, on the non-earthly level into the 5th dimension and just to return home.

Beloved children. As said, more and more truths are coming out now with each passing day. The important thing is to remain calm in the process. There will come a moment when you will worry, because the darkness is doing everything to really create the Third World War, to ignite on different levels and different countries of this world now in some forms, to create noise, to create trouble, to create civil war, to create any kind of wars. But many people have already grown out of it to some extent. They just don't participate anymore. They let the anger flow past them, they take note. They take note that people are the way they are.

But they remain in their observational role and are thus to some extent so strong in their connection that they can no longer get caught up in the drama of the 3D level. The more you go within, the more you go into the silence and the stronger your connection to the Divine Source is, the more your soul has a say in life, the easier it will go.

There are several timelines active. Many things will happen, there will also be one or two power outages, as has already happened, it may get cooler for a day, but it will not be in the long run that you have to suffer, that you have no warmth and no light. Be prepared anyway, be in your power. Everything you have at home in terms of food, in terms of water, in terms of what you need for daily life, alternative ways of warmth, are ultimately helpful because it calms you down. And that calming alone makes it possible for you to be so in your power to manifest another timeline. Currently, there are actually 11 timelines still active. It's always just trying to take as many people with it as possible. And the slower it goes, the more people wake up than if it goes too abruptly. But there will be a point where no turning back is possible anymore, where God just intervenes completely, the earth is free, and then it picks up some speed. But you will never, especially here in the European area, have to worry seriously. There will be areas where a low vibrational level is lived out and there will be areas where higher vibrational levels are. You have it in your own hands to a certain extent, because one soul would be able to fill up an area of over ten thousand square kilometers with light in such a way that no bad energies or bad events can take place at all.

Beloved children. As said, in the middle level of the 4D, the darkness can no longer reach you, it can then no longer have such a strong influence on your thought structure to activate you with dark trigger points that you go into any pain events from the past or worry for the future. Many of you are jumping in these dimensions. That is, you are sometimes in the 3D level because you were angry, then you go back to the 4th, beginning of the 4th dimension. The moment the critical mass is reached on this dimension, there is a jump forward again and this will always happen in phases like this. But there is also a point of no return, "the point of no return", that is, this point is set by God.

And there is no time frame for that. As I said, for some it may be a little earlier, for some it may be a little less, because these timelines and this dimensional evolution of people is not linear, but it is stronger in some areas, higher vibrational or less high vibrational. Stay in your confidence, believe in your power, in your might, in your strength. You are connected to the Divine Source at all times through your Higher Self, the Divine Spark is within you, and God can work through you if you allow it.

What is happening now is that various levels of dark figures are also trying to use energy weapons to agitate humanity. That is, frequencies are being used to keep humanity in fear mode. This has been happening for some time, but this is also being turned up a bit, one of the reasons why the animals are running in circles so much right now. The frequencies are kept so intense, so to speak, that it also wants to keep the consciousness of Mother Earth trapped and in certain places the perception of the animals is disturbed to such an extent - but that they still unconsciously try to protect the offspring, the women and children. This turning movement that they perform is ultimately a protective measure to protect the herd and also to keep the balance to a certain extent, because the animals react extremely massively to these energies. We told you some time ago, some years ago, that the starlings fly very large spirals in the sky during the dark months. The starlings have the possibility to create certain balances also through their energies, even more than the animals that are currently spinning in circles, because they are mainly triggered by the energy weapons. But the primal instinct intervenes and they do what is ultimately possible, to run away the excess of adrenaline (due to the fighting mode) by turning in circles again and again and still protecting the herd itself.

These energy frequencies can be switched to activate certain areas in the brain, for example the limbic system, which is there for the mode of fight and flight, and when that is triggered, it is of great importance to be in your heart despite everything. Try to focus all of your power and all of your strength on ultimately being in that process, the surrender to that process, but remaining sovereign in that, that is, in your power, perceiving yourself as what you are, as Divine Children, as Beloved Children of the Creator.

And to live this strength and this power without harming others, to live in love, means nothing else than that the opposite, the darkness, does not want to approach you at all, because it will be transformed in your light otherwise. And if you live this power and this strength, you will automatically drift into another timeline, into another dimension, rather into the 4th, rather into the middle of the 4th, where the darkness cannot reach you. So the whole thing is very dynamic. It's hard to explain in the limitation of language, but ultimately the point is that there really will be areas where people are already very far along and very high vibrationally and there are areas where there is a lot of struggle.

Again, the note: Struggle means, when we refer to struggle, we don't mean the physical struggle on the outside, we mean the struggle that you create with your thinker, with your thought system. "On the one hand", "on the other hand", evaluate, judge, the anger, on what happens in the world - which is human! It also wants to be perceived, this anger. But don't stick to it. Do not stick to it. Dissolve it by observing it, by allowing it like water that overflows its banks and then seeps away. Let it go - by observing it and allowing it, you transform it. And then go back into your power. If you were attacked on the outside and you were sovereign, the attacker would not get close enough to you. This does not mean that you are being attacked, it is just the indication of how it works on the energetic level.

Beloved children in the light. The next period will be, of course, very, very intense and interesting on all levels. As said, they will try, as they are already doing with the energy weapons - and we don't mean the ones that are in the hands of any governments, but we mean the ones that are in the hands of the dark ones, that are used to just keep you in battle mode, to keep you in fear, to keep you low vibrating so that you continue to produce food and give them more time. But in the end, time is already running out for them, with each passing day the light is increasing, and you are getting support and help from all sides. And the Divine Source itself, the Creator, intervenes and at the appropriate time will intensify certain things in such a way that the awakening process will be accelerated a bit here as well.

Beloved children. This adventure that your souls have chosen is of such great intensity, and it is truly an adventure if you look at it from a little bird's eye view. It is an adventure. More and more you will be able to change, as said, your abilities like clairvoyance, clairsentience, clairaudience, and these things, because the DNA, the recall of the DNA, the reactivation of the DNA that was supposed to be shut down will be resumed. The nature beings, often called by you "entity beings" or "nature spirits", will show themselves, whereby they are not spirits, but beings, which just have certain tasks on earth. So there is in the old linguistic usage - the Germanic literature is full of it - the old Germanic belief of the tree spirits, the elves, fairies, of being-like energy forms, goblins, gnomes. Not all of them are just sweet, some of them tend to be mischievous, but the point is that they will show themselves more and more, better said you will perceive them more and more. Here also comes help and support.

Free yourself from what is happening on the outside. It is first and foremost a spiritual matter. And this spiritual matter will be intensified with every day, stronger, and it will become clearer with every day for those who are in the innermost connection and know through it.

Of course, they will try, as they are doing now, with the medicines, that they will ultimately create a shortage. Only shortages can create struggle in the first place. But the planet can supply you with everything. And it's artificially created shortages, whether that's in food or in anything, it's just artificially created problems to keep people fighting. The struggle for survival, the struggle for the best place, for the best opportunities.

Beloved children. You will mainly see pharmaceuticals begin to die this year, and you will go back to the roots of nature. As we mentioned earlier, not only did God not create any real diseases, but the Creator also provided the appropriate element, mineral or herb for everything that might occur. The point for you now is to focus on what is essential. The love. The family. The sanctuary of the family. The Holy Family as such, which has been so destroyed and divided. We do not even want to talk about the crimes against the children.

Everything, everything becomes true, everything is revealed, everything is shown. It is the time when there is so much light that the darkness no longer has a chance to hide completely. And it means nevertheless also that you will start to live new ideas, new creativity, where you have then time maybe, because in the outside some things happen, that it comes to standstills. And it will also happen sporadically, and sometimes on a larger scale, it nevertheless means that you can live out your own creativity during this time. That you can start to live conscious being. And you will be very creative. You will have a lot of ideas. And in the background, there are already the light-filled powers that help you to live these levels completely and also to implement it accordingly.

Beloved children. The power that works in you is infinite. And when you start to accept this and to understand this and to live this - if 20% of humanity would do it, would go into their power from now on, the whole spectacle would be over tomorrow. It would be a little bit extremely bumpy, but it would be over because the darkness, the dark beings just wouldn't be able to take hold. And it's already over on the energetic level. And to internalize that, when you hear "this is bad," "this is negative," "there's something happening," "there's that happening," look out. Is it affecting you? Is it in your immediate environment? If it is, then help the neighbors, have enough at home that you can also reach out to one or the other. But most of the time you will find out: It is not in your environment. Paper is patient and so is the screen.

You will truly enter a new time. You will enter a Golden Age, and depending on which timeline is chosen, it could be so clear by summer that new structures will be formed. Sometimes, in some levels, it may take until August/September. Nevertheless, the fact is that, as mentioned, with each passing day there is a change. And don't be afraid of it when you see so much military on the streets. You will find that they are for your protection, not to harm you, no matter what nationality. Have the confidence. Have the confidence that there is a lot going on here and that there are processes that have been going on for a very, very long time. Free yourselves from it. Just enjoy every day of your existence. Be prepared for the future, but don't worry about the future!

What you are about to experience is ultimately the adventure your soul has been waiting for all your life. You will see colors that you did not know before, because your visual spectrum will change. So will the levels of hearing. You will be able to hear better, you will be able to hear differently. You will find that on the 5D level there is a peace, that the 5D level has its own sound, a feeling of "coming home", a feeling of being "bathed in clouds". You will find that these changes can be very rapid and very drastic on one level, on the 3D level, but yet again very delicate in transition in the 4th dimension. Of course, it makes sense to meditate so much that you are constantly on the middle or higher level of the 4th dimension, and if this were the case, then the whole thing would not bother you at all. You wouldn't be "gone," but you would be so far enraptured that you would just be able to see through this play and actually take note of it like a play. You would not be drawn into it; you would no longer be part of this struggle and this claim.

Every soul is of such great importance and those who have awakened - and we said before in another announcement that ultimately every family has brought or had a "troublemaker" so to speak, who has helped to awaken. Sometimes it did not work, because it always takes two: One who tries to wake up but one who is also ready to wake up. And since ultimately many people still give up or have given up your life - has also to do with the guilt cult, in which Germany is stuck for so long - the realization will mature in you, that everything you knew or heard or recognized until now, is a bit of a lie. Whether it is religions that have been infiltrated, what has already happened many years ago, happened centuries ago, whether it is that some people are not really human because they lack the soul. You will find that the whole force field Earth is actually quite different from what you imagine. And this adventure in the certainty that you can never fall lower than in God's hand, you may also enjoy a little bit. And you are meanwhile in the position, many of you, to let the time pass either so rapidly that you do not know that you got up on Monday, why it is already Friday again, and sometimes the time passes very slowly. That also has an influence: it always depends on which timeline, which dimension and therefore which timeline you are in.

Beloved children. It will truly be a year that will still be associated with a lot of sadness, partly in the families, especially for the children. But, many of these children, as we have also already communicated, have specially decided to go along with this game a bit. And moreover, to go along with it only to help the other souls to wake up. Just like with the injured or disabled people. They don't necessarily have so many problems with the poison for the simple reason that they were not allowed to live their free will at all. Here, too, God has already intervened protectively with one or the other. Everything is possible. The one who believes in God's help draws down God's love! And through this everything is possible. If there are difficulties, turn to the Creator. Turn to the original source of being. And you will understand that ultimately your power, your force of your soul could also clear everything, with the help of the Divine Spark.

Beloved children. It is truly exciting, and it will remain exciting. You can be sure that while forgiveness will be given, nothing will be forgotten and people will also be held accountable, on one level or another. For the simple reason that it will not be repeated, and that God's creation will return to what it once was: upright, honest, proud, dignified, self-reliant. And everyone would take responsibility for their actions, must take responsibility for their actions. Honor, decency, respect. And that's where it's going to go again, so that's all that's happening: You will discover a new world where you will perceive things that you have never seen before, you will make new connections with people from your soul families with whom you are so familiar or who are so familiar to you as if you were already living together for centuries - literally you are already doing it, new creative places will form, forces will form that are really of great importance and bring about great changes in addition.

The financial system will not last much longer. It's tried to be resuscitated every now and then, but ultimately it's been broken since 2008 and it can't be fixed. There will be changes here as well. But you just don't need to participate in some things. And this not taking part has such a great power and strength: This is lived sovereignty, when what happens to you in the outside is indifferent in the struggle, not in the sense of finding the word "equal", but "of the same validity".

Beloved children. You will find that certain things are simply no longer important to you. What was important before, what was of great importance before, simply has no value anymore. Value now has the interpersonal, the love, the connection, the sense of honor, the decency, the dignity, and that will crystallize more and more. The process will take longer, but nevertheless again the hint: With every day more and more truths come out and it will be an intensive process, but a special process. Remember your strength!

Beloved child. You are the power in your world. You are the captain in your boat. You have free will. Use it! Use it by making the decision on the body-mind-soul level, not only in your head. Use your gifts, use your powers. Many of them are still lying fallow. But now the time has come that you discover the love in yourself and live it.

You are so valuable. You are so special. And you are so strong.

You are steadfast. You have fought your way through many quarrels. You are still there!

You are the love of God! You are the creator of your own reality. Create wisely, but create! Not from the head and never to the harm of someone else.

Imagine the world you want to live in. Use the gift of imagination to create that change within yourself. Live it, love it!

Respect nature, respect animals. Respect the people. And respect yourself.

And begin to live self-love by simply bringing attention to your heart chakra as often as possible - the connection to the soul will then take care of the rest, so to speak.

You are so powerful. And so infinitely loved. Never alone, because we are always by your side.

It will be an exciting year, it will be a special year. But you will find it will also be a very beautiful year, even though it will be intense.

Know that you are infinitely loved. Know that you are infinitely protected.

We bless you in the light of omnipotence, now and all times and so be it!"

(Archangel Chamuel)
