

Transliteration of the Channeling "Density" of Archangel Chamuel by Heike Lieselotte Schneider on June 25, 2022

"Blessed be you beloved children of light, we are the energy you call Chamuel.

We would first like to talk about the current time events, about the energy structures, before we then move on to our actual topic, which today will be about the "density" or the "condensation", but first of all it is essential and important for you to know which energy structures are currently affecting you.

Beloved children in the Light. You are still in growth, in one of the greatest growth processes you can imagine, as any limitations are gradually being dissolved. The main issues at the moment are eyes, throat, lungs, the bones of course still because it is the densest form in your body, but mainly allergic reactions or reactions that affect the mucous membranes so to speak. This has to do with the cleansing process that you are all going through now, some more, some less. And keep in mind here that there are really a lot of environmental toxins acting on you at the moment, be it directly from the clouds, but also dealing with each other because of the toxins that are acting in many people at the moment, which also have the tendency to jump from one or the other.

Beloved children. The most important thing is still frequent bathing, preferably with salt, is frequent contemplation, feeling into yourself, always asking the question during the day how you are, always checking how your energy structure is, so that you can of course immediately take countermeasures.

Beloved children in the light. Each of you is going through your own processes, through your own events, through your own manifestations and through the manifestations that your souls have in store for you to finally fully awaken.

Beloved children in the light. That which acts upon your body structure is no longer reversible. That which is sent from the dark side is reversible. Something that is awakened, that is truly awakened, the cell that is truly awakened will not go back to sleep. The impulses that are given to the DNA that accelerate the waking up process are not reversible.

Everything what the darkness lets work on you at the moment in the area of the psychic but also partly in the area of the physical, is reversible sometimes. However, the point is that the soul has to make this decision. And it is actually only possible - and we delete the word "actually" - it is only possible, or exclusively only with the help of the Divine Source itself. A turning back to the Divine Source, a turning in, a surrendering allows miracles to happen on the body-mind-soul level. But this can only succeed if the soul surrenders completely and also the human being with his consciousness.

We are talking about consciousness here, but you all know that consciousness means "being aware", which is often not lived. Conscious being means to be aware of your thought structure at any time and to use it as a tool. Conscious being, as you live it, is mostly very unconscious. Therefore, unconsciously you manifest obstacles very often. Depending on how awake the soul is, it can slowly start to counteract more and more, because the empowerment of the soul with this reversal process that is going on at the moment, the awakening process, will eventually be brought to a level where the soul structure will start to put certain processes in place that will allow you to accept that it is more "there", so to speak. For some it is difficult. In the last time, so to speak, everything has compressed, everything has become denser. The density has increased. The 3D density has increased until it sort of collapses and turns into 4D. The pressure outside has increased so that you go into your own power and your own strength.

Beloved children in the light. You still have free will. Free will that should and may be used at all times. However, a will can only be free when it is in full consciousness. The thought structures that chatter something to themselves are partly, as already explained, occupied by the darkness. This means that is one of the reasons why you create events in your life that are not as you would like them to be. To accept and live your own power, your own strength, that is what is necessary to speed up the process a little bit.

But the process is already going into acceleration, because every day more and more people around the world are waking up, who previously kept quiet for fear of reprisals or for fear of any form of problems or obstacles or tribulations or even of the authorities, will eventually become so enormous through the condensation, through the density that you now have to step through, that you can cross over into the other dimension more easily.

Sometimes you are already in the lower levels of the fourth dimension. The dimensions are not doors that you just walk through. They are processes that enable you, so to speak, to find the right keyhole for you to enter the other dimension. But for some people it is so much that they go back to the comfortable, old, supposedly good things. But the soul feels the lower density of the next dimension, and this lower density causes an uncanny longing of the soul for liberation.

At present, it makes sense to take as much time as possible. Not only that old issues, sometimes childhood traumas or traumas in any form rise up in you, that sometimes the most important thing you can do is to stare at a wall for ten minutes and drift away for a bit. Decelerate! The deceleration process that will eventually be set in motion is currently being amplified a bit with the acceleration in society to counteract that.

Beloved children. The magnetic line field of the earth corresponds approximately to a distance of 50 kilometers, you pass a layline. the more collected you are, the simpler and easier it is possible to cross these magnetic lines without any problems. There is a reason that the darkness tries to make you travel on one side, but on the other side it tries to keep you from traveling. Depending on where the energies of angry people are needed the most to further feed the darkness. That's why you have these issues right now, that on one side you get a 'gift' that you can travel a lot, but on the other side this is so upsetting because there are so many people in such a small space that the anger is stoked more again. Or the desire to travel based on the accelerated third D level, where the hamster wheel is still being diligently operated, and then finally taking time for yourself on a vacation. This black and white thinking will change.

It will change completely, the more you reach the fourth dimension and beyond that you will change to the fifth - this is also a process, which of course will not take place from one day to the other - it is mainly about the fact that you travel in your power, in your strength ultimately with your entire being. This entire being is nothing else than to consciously perceive the connection between body-mind-soul and also to consciously control it.

Beloved children in the light. Darkness can only be evil, as we have already explained. And evil shows its face in the most different levels, in different situations and also in different people. The process, in which you are at present from 3D to 5D, is not stopable. By nobody! Consider, even if the one or other person longs again into the unconsciousness and also dives into the unconsciousness perhaps temporarily, consider that the earth which lies at present with a liberation rate of something over 92% and also the animals which are on the earth also live through this process. Every stone, every grain of sand feels the call of the change to the next dimension. And even if someone withdraws and simply cannot bear the cruelties of the world at the moment and does not want to hear anything anymore and does not want to deal with any news - be it the truthful ones or also the untruthful ones - it does not mean that this person does not travel along.

It means that there is a pause at the moment. A pause insofar that the very strongly driven spirit, which at the moment also has to process the new energy structures of the soul, wants to be served with perhaps trivialities. Especially the ego structure, the thinker, sometimes likes to experience simple and light, shallow entertainment in order to come to rest a little. Give in to it. Not over days or weeks or months, but over moments. It is not necessary to be the first to know the latest news, it is not necessary to get lost in 25 different news channels. It does not make sense to constantly exchange ideas about the problems of this world.

It makes sense now to focus on how to get out of this bottleneck, out of this density you are in now, and into the next level. The pressure on the outside is increasing so much that more and more people are noticing that something is wrong. This is happening worldwide, as you know for sure.

Sometimes the unconscious part of you clings to the tried and true. Even the most awakened sometimes force their children into systems where they know that only lies are taught. Even the most awakened still support the system out of fear of reprisals, but nevertheless the density increases so far, so to speak this small opening from 3 to 4D - the density that you pass through there to be able to change to the other level - that it supposedly looks like stagnation.

Why does this take so long?

Beloved Child. If you are absolutely honest with yourself, you know that you were a completely different person two years ago, three or five years ago. You realize that you simply don't want to carry certain structures anymore and that you don't carry them anymore. You experience how your soul strengthens. You experience how everything in you calls for lightness. You experience that the revaluation with things in the outside have no more meaning. Even if there might be one or the other outlier, but nevertheless you experience the change as a soul. The change to a calmer life, to a deceleration. Having the time to try new hobbies. To have the time to garden. To have the time to just look up in the air, to watch the sky, where to perceive the future changes that will take place there. This is the desire of your soul. Your souls will begin to pause more and more and more to perceive everything with all your senses. To feel a leaf, to watch a bee in its flight and its work suddenly seems so much more tempting, so much more important than the order in the house. Give in to this desire. It is the desire of the child who discovers the world anew and takes time to gather experiences and also to make experiences. It is not for nothing that it is said "If you become like little children, the kingdom of heaven is yours".

It is a birth canal where the pressure is very strong that leads you to the fourth dimension. It is not that humanity as a whole is suddenly waking up in the fourth dimension. Some of you are already in the fifth now and then for a few seconds, some are in the middle stage of the fourth, having less and less reprisals from the authorities. Some are vibrating at the transition from the fourth to the fifth dimension. The fifth dimension for the planet will be reached in 2037. As mentioned, one or the other feels something ahead, one or the other still arrests in the old. Nevertheless, the ultimate goal is to wake up humanity and save humanity.

Everything that is non-human will disappear. Everything that is unsouled will say goodbye. Especially when you are already in the middle end of the fourth dimension, the darkness will be less able to affect you, unless unredeemed pain lives in you.

Any emotion that comes up should be looked at. Not energized, but looked at. When you look at something from the observation role, you direct all your energy and attention to the problem. Say, the problem is dark - the attention is light energy - the problem dissolves.

Each of you knows people who had many reprisals in that time, but you also know people who had no reprisals at all, who continued to live their lives, self-determined, sovereign, in their power and their strength. And there are the fighters who fight against everything and everyone. Who try to fight against the darkness, against the authorities, against everything and everyone. But the fight feeds exactly this power or these figures, which you actually want to fight.

Observe! Bring energy! Be truthful! Pass on what is true, real, honest! Stay in your center, in your power and your strength! The awakening process is now taking on more rapid forms because there is a form of critical mass that has already been reached. It is not the same in all places in this world. Sometimes the planet is not ready in that place, sometimes the cleanup is not ready, sometimes man is not ready. You see, this is also more or less about body-mind-soul.

Beloved children in the light. There will be enclaves where many, many people are already enlightened or awakened or whatever you want to call it - and we use the word "enlightened" not in the form of "attaining mastery" but of becoming enlightened that a light has dawned on you, who are so entrenched in their bonds of friendship and family, so supportive of each other that no problems come their way and that simply keeps them in the protected space, in the protected energy bubble, so to speak. Even if the darkness would attack, it is not possible to dissolve this circle because of the connected power energy, because it is not really perceived.

Of course, one or the other falls out a bit. But there's such a nice saying: "Fall down - straighten your crown - get up and keep going." And that's what it should be about. If you let go of struggle - struggle is density, if you let go of pain - pain is density, if you let go of fear - fear is density, you will automatically rise. Like a balloon that has lead attached to it, and every solder of lead that is attached to the balloon, which is made up of anger, fear, hatred, envy, resentment, judgment and evaluation, becomes lighter bit by bit because it disappears more and more. The more you transform these parts in you, redirect bound life energy into pure Divine life energy and love energy again, the ballast loosens and the balloon rises further and further and further.

It is a matter of stripping away all the darkness within yourself to the point where you can rise further and further. Darkness means getting angry with your neighbor. Darkness means getting angry at the stupidity, the supposed stupidity of others. Worse yet - for the slightly awakened or for many awakened - it is then the anger at having done this that weighs it down a little more, so that the balloon cannot rise any further.

Beloved children. The darkness can only be evil. And when you understand this, accept it in your innermost being, then you walk out of the struggle.

The change is already there - and once again: it is no longer reversible. Because the earth is also slowly becoming freer and the consciousness of the earth knows exactly where it wants to go.

You have all brought about the change. Each one of you. Some show it outwardly, there will be more who go to the streets and stand up for their rights. Some will support more energetically from within. Some feel unable to do either, and they walk for hours through the cities, throwing in flyers. And some want others to work and change, but are afraid of their own change. This is the main theme. That the change can only happen within you. Only when you have thrown off your density you can rise more and more. And with every human, with every soul that succeeds in this time you help to further relieve the planet, to further support the ascension process. As mentioned, the animals and the planet itself are ascending and it is not reversible.

There is no shame in asking for help, for support. But if you feel that news makes you sad, why do you watch it? Why do you let the electrics take you over? Always looking for the truth. Always looking for the latest news. And this, on the level of darkness, will intensify greatly. And yes, many, many souls will not go along, who are partly really only incarnated to help humanity, the human soul as such, to be able to live through the ascension process and also to bring it successfully behind. But everybody is asked to do his contribution to it. Maybe someone can enlighten and talk particularly well, you talk to other people. Sometimes it is easier for the soul to write something, then you write something, that is also ok. Only, the wake-up call that goes from your soul to your ego structure means nothing else, that ultimately the change is already there and the desire for change is pointed out by your soul. Of course, if you do not follow this call, then you will do one or another lap of honor. And once again: Ascension is very individual for each individual, very different in its execution.

Self-empowerment is still the biggest issue, namely to perceive yourself as what you are: a sovereign being, ensouled and endowed with the Divine Light means not having to bow down to anyone except the Omnipotence itself - and even that would not be a problem not to do it. But nevertheless, the point now is to live the power and the strength on all levels. "Living on all levels" means using all the senses: "And when you become like little children..."

Beloved child in light. You have an inexhaustible potential of possibilities within you, as you access the knowledge of the entire universe through the soul. We still want to invite you to search and feel the truth in your heart, not in the decisions or the news that others have cleaned up for you, so that you believe as they would like you to believe.

It is now really about letting go of these old things. And your soul is of the utmost, utmost, utmost importance. Every ensouled being is of the utmost importance.

Beloved child in the light. Your glow, your radiance, your overcoming of the condensation, the density is exactly what will ultimately make everything possible.

Unfortunately, many people have fallen by the wayside. Mostly the innocent or the weakest of a society. This is tragic. But, once again, the hint is allowed: Your soul is an adventurer who knows that he is immortal. And the connection to the Divine Source, if it has not been destroyed by violence or by pharmacy, will always know the truth. Truth has its own smell, its own taste, its own construction. And it always stands on its own. It needs no support, it needs no propaganda, it needs no lies - tall tales woven or spoken around it.

Beloved child of the light. It is not by chance that you are here. It is of great importance that you make every effort to bring peace in your environment. Do everything to live truthfulness. And do everything to turn to the original source of all being, the loving creator of the universe. The more you live this and pass it on to others, the more you will be able to reach the upper fourth dimension for the simple reason that you have thrown off the ballast. No obligation to anyone in politics, because they do not feel obligated to you.

Being alive in all its facets is exactly what is ultimately so important and so essential for you. And always know: You are infinitely loved. You are the most powerful in the universe, the most powerful being in the universe ultimately, because the Divine spark lives in you! To see this power, to accept it without wanting to corrupt it, is a part of the learning task.

Beloved child in the light. You are greatness! You are reason! You are courage! You are inner and outer beauty! You are powerful! You are full of compassion! And your heart overflows with love!

This is the energy that ushers in the new age. Behold! Listen! Consciously perceive it with all your senses! And then you will realize that you have come a little closer to heaven on earth.

Beloved child in the light. You are with the most powerful being that was ever created! Because you can have access directly to the source of all being through your higher self! And this is the beauty of the "adventure life" - which you currently only try to bring behind you - it means nothing else than to really and truly recognize yourself for your own power effort.

You are still here! You have not given up! You are powerful, you are vigorous, you are energetic! You are full of beauty!

The point is for you to reach out to each other and really and truly. Delicate as a daisy, but just as strong as the daisy that can grow through concrete.

The change is here. It has already begun.

Beloved children! Do not be afraid! Do not be afraid!

We bless you in the light of the Divine Omnipotence, Now and all the time and so be it!"

(Archangel Chamuel)
