

Transliteration of the Channeling "Half Truths" of Archangel Chamuel by Heike Lieselotte Schneider on March 28, 2022

“Be blessed you beloved children of light. We are the energy you call Chamuel.

Beloved children in the light. First of all, before we come to our actual topic, which today will be about the topic of "half-truths", we would like to point out to you that you need an extreme amount of time and rest. You need the time on the one hand for reflection, but still to let the inner growth and also the processing of the old experiences, events in you take place.

The energy structures, which are still working, make the whole organism to start new processes. At the moment it is the fight "light against darkness". That is, the luminous forces are sending the light, but the darkness is trying to pull you down into the depths. Only when you are able to retreat inward, to be in your hearts, will you pass through with ease. But even this supposed ease includes enough sleep, enough water - blessed water if possible, each of you can bless it by simply asking for the Divine Blessing in love - enough time for meditation, for contemplation, it is of great importance. It is not so important whether you read the latest news in five different channels or get smart in five different sites, it is more important that you cherish the connection. It is of great, great importance, only through this you will be able to be so deeply anchored in yourself to get through the coming, yet very turbulent time well.

Beloved children in the light. As before, the bone structures, everything that is particularly dense, everything that is particularly strongly compacted, joints (advancing), the entire bone structure, are affected by these strong transformational influences.

Beloved children in the light. Ultimately, it is a matter of your accepting that your power and your strength comes from within, from your connection to the Divine Source. That you have an inexhaustible amount of energy, if you allow it. That you have an inexhaustible amount of love, if you allow it. And in the end, that is the only thing that can, will, and most importantly, that is the only thing that will protect you in this time.

Beloved children in the light. To do this, it is important to realize that the world is full of half-truths. Why do we say "half-truths" and not "lies"? The lie is very obvious for many people. The lie is always felt by the soul. Not by the head, of course, but by the soul. The soul recognizes lie and truth very clearly. Simply because it has a completely different vibration frequency. What was finally shown to you by the world in the last years are the half-truths. The half-truths, where the soul fights against the head, so to speak, to find out what is really true now and what is lie and fraud. The half-truths, the concealment, that is the greatest crime.

You have been made to point fingers at others without considering that you are always pointing three fingers at yourself. You have been made to live "do-gooding". Only you know what is good, what is right, what is honest, what is not honest. You have been entangled in half-truths. These half-truths are exactly the same as watching movies. It is exactly the same thing that is played to you, in a theater play. This half-truth is the concealment of the real being, and it is one of the greatest crimes.

What is being done now is pointed out, "You don't have to do anything you don't want to do." And to sit on a person or to sit on a society that tells half-truths and pushes you into some action that harms yourself, ultimately means nothing more than packaging a lie in such a way that a piece of truth still shines through. And this piece of truth is that you can find out through deep research and search what is true and what is not true. Or even by completely using the heart-soul connection to find out these truths, or rather to immediately feel what is lying. The crime that is happening now is that you have been told or will be told that everything was out in the open, that everyone could have known. Only because you think you know what is right and wrong, only because you have fallen for the half-truths.

We already spoke in our annual message that suffering will come. Suffering in terms that many souls will say goodbye who do not want to participate in this ascension process, but also souls who have decided to sacrifice themselves, to sacrifice consciously, to help others, to help the rest to awaken.

Beloved children in the light. Half-truths are worse than lies, because it gives expression to the obfuscation and malice that the darkness is currently displaying. The half-truths that are presented to you in the media in any form cause you to generate emotions. And only the feelings - love, joy, gratitude, happiness - come from the heart or soul, everything else is emotions. You are given bad images, not so bad images, you are told what to think and what not to think. You are treated like underage children. Hidden behind half-truths. And your half-truth that you live is that you allow it. That you allow yourselves to be treated like this.

Beloved children. It is the time of awakening, of upheaval. Every day a little bit more is happening. Every day a little more truth is coming to light. And that truth is very palpable. And to say "I don't even want to hear it because I'm not able to handle it." - that time is over now. You will have to deal with it, in one form or another. That is why it is of such great importance that you take the time, the silence and the stillness for yourselves. For those who say, "I don't have that time, that stillness, I have small children at home, I have a job." - Beloved children, there is nothing more important than playing with children, being in the here and now.

Children show you the way, just like animals, what it means to be in the here and now. Stress only happens when you are in one place and want to be in another place. When you accept the here and now, you cannot cause stress or have stress unless you follow the half-truths in your head about what you still have to do and get done.

Beloved children. Half-truths are worse than lies. Because in the end the lie is hidden behind the truth, hidden in a part of the truth. Stop fighting each other. Stop - and we implore you - believing what you are told: start checking what the truth is for yourself - not in your head, but in your heart.

A child who holds his hands in front of his eyes and imagines that he is not seen, this child lives in each of you. To close your eyes ultimately means to hand over responsibility for your own life, not to love, to faith, to being, but to some supposed authorities, the half-truths that you have been told for so long, that many of you have seen through.

Each one of you who has fallen into the consumerist frenzy knows that these are values that have no meaning, because your soul knows it. Each one of you who thought that he had to wear some special label to enhance himself knew in the depths of his soul that it is not important, that other things are more important. Everyone who sat for hours in front of the television knew that this is not life, because your soul told you that this IS not life. You yourselves have chosen to follow these half-truths.

It's time to break free of them, to accept that these half-truths exist and to look behind the scenes. To really see. And that doesn't mean watching every gruesome video presented to you about any experience from front to back, but it also means not closing your eyes to what the truth is.

Truth is ultimately something that must be recognized in order to pull the plug on the lies and deceit. Truth that is also lived. Truth that is lived means not playing the game anymore. It means being upright in oneself and not following the half-truth of "not wanting to be in trouble." It means straightforwardness.

We know that we expect an extreme amount from you. But it is about the most important thing: about the salvation of all of you. Therefore, allow us these strong words.

The time to close your eyes, not to look in the hope of not being seen.

The time of being a follower is definitely over now.

It is time to activate the power and strength within yourselves.

It is time to take your hands off your eyes and look at the truth.

There will be no slipping through the cracks.

There will have to be a very clear decision. And that decision is happening right now.

The half-truths that you have been told about wars or anything else - and every one of you knows, or every soul knows, that no souled being wants war. Why? Why would a souled being artificially create pain? And yet you accept it?!

You have put up with it for many, many, many years. And now, all of a sudden, the do-gooders come and say, "There's something wrong here." In a war that has already existed for eight years, where people have been suffering for eight years.

Beloved children in the light. Sometimes it takes blowing something up to release something. This is something that is happening right now. In the end, the danger that came from this place was so gigantic that nothing else could be done. At least from man's point of view.

Beloved children in the light. Instead of living indignation, live love. Instead of living indifference, confess. Now is the time to embrace the freedom that calls. To create within yourselves and send it outward. To put it into practice. To realize what is important, what is essential and to live it once and for all.

Fear is the absence of love. You have lived fear for years. Now would be the time to finally live love. To finally live the connection to your actual being. To live the actual greatness. To let the love flow. Just as you will be reproached by the authorities that you cannot hide behind the "You didn't know" or "We didn't know", because the truth was noticeable all the time. And by covering the truth with half-truths, it means nothing else than that the last years were simply a lie. And this lie only serves the darkness. And these lies, this construct of lies is ultimately something that was created to keep you down. Remember, the darkness cannot create. The darkness has no creative power. But a creator power, which is gagged and enslaved, which you can lead at your will through transhumanism, that would be the epitome of lived darkness. That would be the possibility to compromise the creator power. That would be the possibility or the attempt to use the creative power for oneself.

Truly we say to you: This will not succeed. Because the creative power is so much greater, so much more encompassing, and so much more than anything you can imagine. The darkness has no imagination. It lacks creativity. The darkness has no empathy. Therefore, you cannot expect compassion from these beings. The darkness has no love at all. Because love would transform them in the light.

Beloved children in the light. Now is the time to feel the change within you, to show the change to the outside. What is better for awakening than spring, when nature reawakens in all its power. The one that had the willingness to die a little bit in order to blossom anew in the spring. Just as you have almost died a bit inside by letting yourselves be taken in a direction your souls never wanted by consumption, by media, by movies, by whatever.

Now is the time for your souls to strengthen in such a way that you allow it, to leave behind the darkness of winter, of centuries-old winter.

Yes, it is painful to see the truth. Yes, it does something to you. But to see the truth once and for all has value only when you really discover it for yourself, research it for yourself, accept it for yourself. But whoever still says: "I don't have the power and the strength to see the truth or to know the truth", will not be able to maintain the connection to the soul so far to go through the process, the change in 5D.

Beloved children in the light. You are so much more. You have the connection through your Higher Self to the Divine Source itself. And this connection will not cease as long as a little bit of soul still exists within you. Every bit of soul is connected to the Divine Source.

Miracles are possible. Gigantic miracles are possible. For those who turn away from lies and half-truth and surrender to love and Divine power. But you have to create the willingness within yourself.

The willingness to look,
the willingness to expose half-truths,
the willingness to speak,
the willingness to say "no",
the willingness to denounce injustice,
the willingness to say "stop", the willingness to give up being a follower once and for all.
This power is born from the heart and soul.

Are you ready to set yourself free? Are you ready to follow your heart and soul? Or do you still want to be distracted by trifles? Do you want to continue to be sprinkled? By second hand emotions? Without living, feeling, using all your senses? No. The wake-up call to all souls is getting stronger every day. And, beloved children in the Light, you are so unspeakably valuable that a centuries-long war is taking place over your worthiness.

The Divine Source is intervening. But for this it is necessary, when the hand is extended to you, that you at least once raise your gaze in the direction of the Divine Source itself, to also accept the handshake, the extended hand.

Beloved children. It is time to remember what is real. Of the values that are there. The love, the friendship, the connection, the acceptance. You do not have to love the actual state, but at least accept it, so that you may step out of the struggle. And now is the time for your souls that are crying out for love, to carry the pure love Are, outward, to smile once more, to be once less in your head, to feel once more, to reach out once more, to stop making others small, discriminating, evaluating and judging once more. This time is now.

This does not mean that you approve of what the darkness is doing or has done. It just means accepting what is. But it also means no longer following half-truths.

Turn off the media. Get out into nature. Connect with each other. Find each other. Reach out to your family members. No matter what their opinions are. Don't exclude anyone anymore. Don't separate anyone anymore. Start to live. Living means perceiving with all your senses. You watch movies where people create something, reports how something is built, how something is planted and harvested. They are second-hand emotions. Put your hand into the earth yourself. Reach out to the earth.

Through all the anger and the despair and of course the pain, the actual pain from the people involved in the war directly, has of course led to the earth being enslaved a bit more again. The liberation is somewhat backward. Therefore every (!) soul is called to do something now. You do not want to play this game forever. Follow the call of your soul, because this wake-up call is already out and becomes every day a little bit stronger.

The sensitivities are of less importance now.

It is about feeling and living that heart energy.

It is not about feeling pity.

It is not about permanently evaluating and judging the life situation negatively.

It is about transforming the darkness through power and light.

It is about living, feeling, protecting the children, protecting the innocent.

It is about making the silent heard. To let those who cannot speak for themselves speak through you. When you hear untruth or half-truth, say "Stop!".

It doesn't mean to be permanently in conflict with others.

It just means that you don't have to listen to it.

It means that you live peace. That you create peace. Born through love. Born through the connection to the Divine Source itself. The connection that we are trying to maintain permanently. The connection that we try to keep for yourselves in the power and in the strength, in the balance to some extent. But we need your "I do!"

Beloved child. You are the love of GOD. You are the love of GOD.

Your power and Your strength is what the world needs.

We believe in You.

We believe in Your essence.

We believe in Your goodness.

We believe in Your compassion.

We believe in Your justice.

We believe that You have the strength, the courage and the stamina.

We believe that You are indeed able to change the world. Your light shining means that it would be seen from the entire universe if You let it shine.

Unconditionally. From the joy of the life and from the joy of the love, of the connection.

You are the love of GOD! And this for eternally. You are never alone, you are infinitely protected. Allow yourself to accept the help which is given to you. The time of your change is now. Because you are the love of God.

Be blessed in the light of the Divine Omnipotence and in the truth, the uncovering of the shadow, the transformation and in the source of being alone.

Be blessed, in the name of Omnipotence, now and for eternity and so be it."

(Archangel Chamuel)
